News.

In one way the Knutsford hotel resembled an amex to the United States senate yesterday. The names of William M Stewart of Nevada, R. F.
Pettigrew of South Dakota and Fred T. Dubois of Idaho were inscribed on the register, while the form of Frank J. Cannon of Utah was noted flitting around the Jobby.

These silver forces were getting together.
It was remarked that the advocates of fusion here had not advocated fusion so much as a candidate.

"Alluding to Senator Cannon," interruped Mr. Dubois. "Now all he has asked is that there be a fusion, regardless of what his chances might be.
He has repeatedly made this statement that he would take his chances, provided fusion could be accomplished.
That is fair enough."

"We are going to be in very good condition this fail, so far as Idaho is concerned," said Senator Dubois, "and I cannot see why there could not be a fusion arrangement entered into here.
Concerning the statement that some of Mr. Cannon's friends have made him an issue more than they have fusion,

TALKS OF "GETTING EVEN."

"I cannot see how men can be so blind to their own interests as to refuse to unite and make silver the sale issue until the fight is wen. And I say this to you, that we are watching Utah and these other states, and we propose if our friends are staughtered out here in the west to get even. You want to elect a president in 190, and with our assistance I believe it can be done. The result was very close hast time, and I think this time we can win. But go back on us in this emergency, and we will forestake you. You shall not shaughter our friends almply because you have the power so to do, and expect us to reciprocate with kindness."

ADMIRES SCHLEY.

The senator does not admire the conduct of General Shafter in refusing or neglecting to permit General Garcia to come in and be at the surrender of Toral at Santiago. In fact, he does not admire the campaign against Santiago at all, nor the manner in which the Cubans have been treated by this government. He thinks Schley should have been let alone after he bottled Cervera up in the harbor, and he would have gone inside, destroyed the ships and taken Santiago without all the trouble and expense. Sampson is a man who gets little credit from Senator Stewart. He believes Sampson took all the credit, or tried to, at least, which was due to Schley. The acting rear admiral has warmer admirers among its relatives than the senator from Nevada.

He relates the weather has been so warm in his district for the past few weeks that no one has ventured to talk polities, but that simblering through the heat is a well defined policy concerning those who will be selected as candidates for the lower house this fall, although it is a little early to definitely predict the identity of the nominees.

Concerning this matter of a candidate for the suoreme bench, the members of the bar are taking a lively interest in it, and are suggesting that good men be selected. The fart that the salary is small is a handleap, and prevents attorneys of great eminence from running. A man does not like to forsake a good practice of from $5.000 to $10.000 a year and go on the bench at a salary of $3.000. But it is the belief of the members of the bar alluded to that some good man can be chosen, and that with proper showing, the salary can be raised, even though it does take a constitutional amendment to change the rate paid.

WORD FROM THE FRONT.

Letter From Major General Kent Kaysville Boy Writes.

Major General Kent, in a letter to Mrs. Kent, dated July 8, in front of Santiago, says: "Liscum was superb, and we all recognize his great worth, I only wish that he was here to com-mand his regiment and the brigade." From a Kaysville Boy.

Sergeant Bennett, of company C. Six-teenth infantry, has written to his prother from the front at Santiago as follows:

Fort San Juan, Cuba, July S.—No doubt you expect to hear that I am dead or hurt in some way, but you are rooled. I am in the best of health and as sound as a dollar.

On July I, 2 and I we had the hottest battle ever known, at least there were more shots exchanged than ever before in the short length of time; also, perhaps, more were wounded, although not many were killed—only one in our company.

Dany.

Our brigade took the fort, and the Sixteenth infantry had their colors on the hill first.

I am detailed in charge of the brigade pioneer corps, 55 men in all. Our duty is to go 569 yards in front of the brigade and in the rear of the advance column, to cut down brush and wire fences. When anyone tells you that the Spaniards won't fight, don't believe them.
